

SEATON, FRED A.: Papers
Interior Department Series

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

Eight subseries relating almost exclusively to Fred Seaton's work as Secretary of the Interior, 1956-1961, have been combined to form the Interior Department series of his papers. The subseries are as follows: Hinderaker; Interior Department Press Releases; Miscellaneous Bound Material; Oil, Gas and Minerals; Press Conference Briefing Books; Reclamation; Speeches; and State Briefing Books.

Hinderaker Subseries: Ivan Hinderaker was a political science professor who took a year's leave of absence from UCLA to work on Secretary Seaton's staff. A small series (about 500 pages) of his files was received with the Seaton papers. There are three distinct types of materials in this series. First is a folder of daily sheets with notations about Hinderaker's calls and appointments, August 19, 1959, to June 28, 1960. The second is a chronological series of carbon copies of letters written by Hinderaker from August 17, 1959, to June 28, 1960; mostly personal correspondence with his UCLA and political science contacts. A large portion of the letters has to do with the organization of the Citizenship Clearing House-Eagleton Foundation program whereby twenty-four young Democratic and Republican political science professors would attend their respective political conventions in the summer of 1960 and participate in seminars on the political process. The third segment of the file deals with Seaton's speeches, consisting of a calendar of engagements during Hinderaker's tenure and a subject file of quotation used by Seaton.

The Interior Department Press Releases Subseries consists of ten archives boxes of press releases from 1956 to 1960, filed according to the various divisions of the Interior Department which issued them: Office of the Secretary, Bureau of Indian Affairs, Office of Territories, Bureau of Land Management, Bureau of Mines, Geological Survey, National Park Service. There is also a sequence of press release versions of speeches made by the Secretary and heads of bureaus and offices. The original order of the subseries was maintained.

The Miscellaneous Bound Material Subseries consists of six archives boxes of material removed from ring binders. They cover a miscellany of topics and are considered a subseries because of their physical form rather than their content. Included are administrative manuals, briefing books for press conferences, briefing books on specific issues, budget estimates, and transcripts of congressional hearings. Date coverage is 1956-60.

The Oil, Gas and Minerals Subseries consists of five archives boxes of official correspondence, memos, reports etc. generated or received by Fred Seaton and the staff of the Office of Oil, Gas and Minerals of the Interior Department from 1956 to 1961. Subjects covered most extensively are the strategic minerals program, the mandatory crude oil imports program, and the Middle East Emergency Committee of 1956. There are also items regarding coal and helium. The subseries contains some security classified material.

The Press Conference Briefing Books Subseries consists of six archives boxes of press conference transcripts and press releases for the period January 1954 to June 1960 along with various supporting documents such as correspondence, memorandum and newsclippings.

The Reclamation Subseries consists of six archives boxes of official correspondence, memos, reports and clippings concerning reclamation projects for the period 1956-61. The material is filed in folders named for the specific projects involved.

The Speeches Subseries consists of two archives boxes of transcripts of speeches delivered by Secretary Seaton from March 1956 to January 1961. An index for each year is included.

The State Briefing Book Subseries consists of material removed from ring binders. A book was prepared for most, but not all, states and territories. Each volume summarizes the activities of the various divisions of the Interior Department in that state as compiled in 1960. The subseries is arranged in alphabetical order.
